FAR AFIELD: Experiencing Landscape

Lucy Lippard is one of America's most influential art writers. Her recent books — Lure of the Local: Senses of Place in a Multicentered Society, and On the Beaten Track: Tourism, Art and Place — represent the expansion of her work into cultural studies, community, perceptions of nature, landscape and public art. These provide the ground from which she will explore cultural and personal dimensions of the landscape experience in contemporary society.
