

MILLERCOMM88

Confessions of a Novelist in the Tropics

Nélida Piñón
Brazilian Author

Since 1955 Nélida Piñón has dedicated herself full-time to creative writing, publishing more than six novels and three collections of short stories. Piñón's writing has been translated into Spanish, French, English and Polish. Her literary contributions are considered to be the avant-garde of contemporary Brazilian fiction.

Thursday 8:00 pm 1988

New Music Building Auditorium
1114 West Nevada Street, Urbana
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

28
APR

School of Humanities
Department of English
Department of Spanish, Italian and Portuguese
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies
Office of Women's Studies
Program in Comparative Literature
Unit for Criticism and Interpretive Theory
George A. Miller Committee