

MILLERCOMM89

Janet Burroway

A Reading of Fiction

Janet Burroway is the author of six highly regarded novels, two volumes of poetry, numerous plays and a creative writing text. Her novel, The Buzzards, was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize; Raw Silk was nominated for the National Book Award, and Opening Nights was a Book-of-the-Month Club alternate selection.

"Wonderful tricks of fate inhabit her fiction, sometimes mirroring, and often surpassing, real life."

Doris Grumbach

Thursday 8:00pm 1989

Smith Memorial Room
Smith Music Hall
805 South Mathews Avenue, Urbana
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

9
MAR

Robert J. Carr Visiting Lecture Series
Department of English
Office for Women's Resources and Services
Women's Studies Program
George A. Miller Committee