

Friday, November 10, 2023

11:00am–11:45am

Sonali Shah

CAS Associate 2021–22, Business Administration

The Fruits of One's Labor: Uncovering the Factors that Shape Sustained Technology Adoption Behaviors

Post-harvest loss is a critical problem. Little research exists on the factors that shape sustained technology adoption decisions in any context, making it an area ripe for qualitative inquiry. This project seeks to uncover the factors that lead smallholder mango farmers in Kenya to engage in the sustained adoption of technologies aimed at reducing post-harvest loss.

Noon–12:45pm

Helga Varden

CAS Associate 2021–22, Philosophy

Some Philosophical Puzzles about Racialization

Much philosophy presupposes that personal or social identities (with their correlated 'isms') can be analyzed through the same lens. In this presentation, Professor Varden will provide some reasons to think that this is clearly not the case before zooming in on specific puzzles involved in providing a philosophical account of racialization and racism.

CENTER FOR ADVANCED STUDY
FOOD FOR THOUGHT

A series of public events featuring research and creative projects by recent CAS Associates and Fellows.

We are delighted to showcase the work of some of our most productive and creative faculty in this informal series of intellectually and spiritually invigorating presentations. You are invited to drop in when you can to learn about the exciting projects undertaken by our faculty.

Center for Advanced Study

Levis Faculty Center—Room 210
919 W. Illinois, Urbana

For more information please consult cas.illinois.edu.

To request special accommodations, please contact cas@cas.illinois.edu.